Q3 highlights:

- Raised $4.7M (after costs) in over-subscribed placement with funds to be used to complete Phase 1 study and accelerate technology pipeline developments
- Phase 1 study submitted for HREC review – approval received in early October
- Manufacturing and clinical site preparations remain on schedule for the commencement of the MagSense™ HER2 breast cancer Phase 1 study in the fourth calendar quarter as planned

MELBOURNE – Imagion Biosystems (ASX:IBX), a company dedicated to improving healthcare through the early detection of cancer, today released its Appendix 4C Quarterly Cashflow report and update on company activities for the quarter ending 30 September 2020 (Q3 FY20).

Executive Chairman and CEO Bob Proulx said, “This is an exciting time for Imagion as we are on the cusp of commencing our MagSense™ HER2 breast cancer Phase 1 study.

“We enter this important phase with a stronger balance sheet, thanks to shareholders backing the capital raising during the quarter. We have the funds in place to see us through completion of the study and the opportunity to accelerate development of the technology and pipeline as we look to expand commercial opportunities for our MagSense™ technology.”

Summary of activities in Q3

During the quarter, Imagion raised $4.7M (after costs) in an oversubscribed placement. The raise was strongly supported by existing domestic and overseas institutional and sophisticated shareholders and provided an opportunity to welcome new Australian and UK institutional investors.

The funding will be used to complete the MagSense™ HER2 breast cancer Phase 1 study, which is on track to commence in calendar Q4 of 2020. Additionally, the funds will accelerate preparations for a larger pivotal study for commercial regulatory approval, to be undertaken after the successful completion of the Phase I study.

During the quarter the company submitted the study plan for Human Research Ethics Committee (HREC) review and approval in Australia. HREC approval was received in early October.

Manufacturing of the MagSense™ HER2 nanoparticle formulation for use in the study proceeded as expected in the quarter, as did preparations with study sites in anticipation of HREC approval.

During the quarter Imagion became a member of the Nanosystems Engineering Research Centre at Boston University, giving the Company access to new magnetic technology research. The university is developing ultrasensitive magnetic sensors that could eventually simplify Imagion’s MagSense™ detection system and expand commercial opportunities.

Research from the University of Sydney was published in the quarter which demonstrates that Imagion’s iron oxide nanoparticles enable low-field magnetic resonance imaging. This finding could lead to a reduced cost and improved accessibility of MRI.

Subsequent to the end of the quarter, Imagination has also announced the appointment of Geoff Hollis as Chief Financial Officer, commencing 1 December 2020.

Summary of Q3 Cash Flows

Imagination's cash balance increased to $8.3M during the quarter with $4.7M received, excluding transaction related costs, from the oversubscribed placement. A further $1.56M was received from the exercise of options. An additional $142,200 from the exercised options was received subsequent to the end of the quarter.

The company reported an operating cash outflow of $1.8M in the quarter. While research and development costs were down slightly in the quarter, reflecting timing of certain study preparation costs, R&D expenditures are expected to increase in the coming quarters as the trial commences and the company advances its development pipeline.
